FILM TREAT PROMISED IN

FOX'S "EVANGELINE"

"Evangeline," the vitally dramatic poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow will be seen at the Dixie Theatre tonight and tomorrow night in the motion picture version made by Fox Film Corporation.

William Fox, in making this picture, has achieved what was declared to be impossible. The production is rated a surpassingly beautiful version of the most sublime drama in the history of American literature.

Miss Miriam Cooper, a well known and charming leading woman of the screen is seen in the title role, and her impersonation of the unhappy heroine is said to be her greatest achievement. Don't fail to see the second episode of "The Silent Avenger" also a five reel picture entitled "Faith".

Coming Tuesday—Charles Ray in a five reel picture entitled

"The Law of the North."

TOBACCO DAMAGED BY HAIL NEAR SPRING HILL

Yesterday afternoon just before a heavy rain and wind, hail fell for about three minutes on the farms of Mr. W. E. Fleming, Attorney, Sam Dann and Mr. Wiley Keel's farms and ruined several acres of fine tobacco, breaking off the leaves and tearing big holes in the others. Mr. Fleming had five acres practically ruined and the other farmers lost larger acreage. The last two we were informed had no insurance while Mr. Fleming had one hundred dollars insurance on the acre. There was considerable wind in Scotland Neck but only a moderate rain.

Of course, corn and cotton were damaged considerably in the Spring Hill section but the loss will not be so great as on the tobacco crops.
